Additional statement for the Products that may come into contact with occupiers[1] according to the DELEGATED REGULATION (EU) 2023/2486 (Annex II, articles 3.1. and 3.2, point 5 of the DNSH section)
☐ Yes ☐ No ☐ Not applicable	Products emit less than 0,06 mg of formaldehyde per m^3 of test chamber air upon testing in accordance with the conditions specified in Annex XVII to Regulation (EC) No 1907/2006 and less than 0,001 mg of other categories 1A and 1B carcinogenic volatile organic compounds per m^3 of test chamber air, upon testing in accordance with EN 16516 or ISO 16000-3:2011 or other equivalent standardized test conditions and determination methods.

If yes a test documenting the emissions must be attached. If not applicable a text describing the reason for this must be attached or filled in on the next page (Appendix 1).

APENDIX 1

Reason for assessing emissions requirements as "Not applicable"

The description and list below are according to DS_INF 21005-1_2025.

This appendix contains a non-exhaustive list of building elements, components, and materials that are permanently incorporated into the building and are in contact with the indoor environment and, thereby, the building users. These products may emit or off-gas carcinogenic volatile organic compounds (VOC) classified in categories 1A and 1B, or formaldehyde, and therefore present a potential risk to indoor air quality.

The list has been developed based on a combination of experience collected by Eurofins in connection with environmental labelling of construction products, input from the Danish Council for Sustainability in relation to sustainability certification of buildings, and comments from experts during the development of this DS-INF. The EU Taxonomy, its FAQs, and related guidance material do not clearly define which parts of a building are expected to be tested. In a Danish context, it is therefore recommended to clarify this through the gross list provided in this appendix. The appendix specifically relates to CCM 7.1 and CCM 7.2 under DNSH:PPC.2.

According to “DS_INF 21005-1_2025”, products included in the list below must document compliance with the emission requirements of the EU Taxonomy when they are in contact with the indoor environment of the building and may affect indoor air quality through direct contact or through airborne or liquid-borne exposure.

If there is reason to suspect that other construction products may contain and emit formaldehyde or VOCs, these products must also be tested in accordance with DS/EN 16516, DS/ISO 16000-3:2011, DS/EN ISO 717-1, or other equivalent standardized testing conditions and determination methods as described in DNSH:PPC.2.
